All that is necessary is to send the money to them, when they will pack and forward the parcel to any of the boys' that the dress is given. This is a splendid opportunity for each and every one in Crossfield to show their appreciation of the boys who are gone from this district.

The list and contents of parcels that may be sent can be seen at the Pool Room. The price of parcels range from $1¼ to $5.

Mixed Farming Special Train to Visit Crossfield

The Department of Agriculture has just completed arrangements for the Annual Mixed Farming Special Train to visit different parts of the province commencing June 23rd at Cowley. The train this year will be more complete than ever, no pains being spared to make each department as interesting as possible. The train will consist of 14 cars in all, comprising live stock, dairy appliances, grains, grasses, weeds, models of sheep and pig pens, and poultry houses, Exhibits from the Demonstration Farms and Schools of Agriculture, and a car of stuffed and mounted wild animals and birds native to the province.

Lectures will be given on the various branches of live stock and field husbandry, also on domestic science and home nursing. A special car will be provided where children can be amused and taken care of while their mothers attend the domestic science lectures. The train will be at Crossfield, from 2 p.m. till 5 p.m. July 3rd, and everybody is cordially invited.

Poultry

To anyone who has not carefully followed the directions of poultry development in Canada, an understanding of the status which the poultry industry has now reached must constitute a distinct surprise. Whether viewed from the standpoint of the farmer or of the produce trade, it is now one of the best organized and most progressive of any of our live stock industries. Co-operation amongst farmers in marketing is improving the product and realising for them a higher price than they have hitherto been able to obtain. The reorganization of methods by the is providing against loss in handling, is assuring to the consumer a better article and establishing our export business upon a firm basis.

It is estimated that Canada and Cuba, during the last twenty years, received from the United States about three-fourths of all the eggs exported by that country during that period. This situation, however, has now changed. As against an importation in 1913 of 13,240,111 dozen, we imported in 1915 464 more than 3,783,962 dozen. On the other hand, while in 1913 we exported only 147,149 dozen, in 1915, we exported 7,898,322 dozen. This constitutes a net increase in production, in two years, of at least 17,100,000 dozen. Practically all of these exports went to the United Kingdom.

Notwithstanding the surplus in Canada which these figures indicate, prices during March, April and May have remained at an high level. For the first quarter of the year 1916, the price to producers, selling co-operatively, has been at least 4c. in advance of the price received, for the same period in 1915. For the month of March, it was at least 5c. in advance and for the month of April at least 3c. in advance of last year's price for these respective months. The demand for eggs for local consumption, for storage purposes and for immediate export, has rarely been so keen as at the present time.

Under these circumstances, we believe that it will be a very wise practice to raise as many chickens as it is possible or practicable to handle. Early hatched chicks make good winter layers. Rough grains will probably be produced in abundance in Canada this year the feeding of poultry at a profit should be materially assisted from this source. Eggs at winter prices are a paying proposition, in any event. Poultry, alive or dressed, under present and prospective market conditions can unquestionably be reared and finished at a decided profit. A good flock of poultry, if carefully handled, will serve to prevent waste on the farm and promote economy in living expenses, such as is particularly necessary when all farm products are becoming so marketable and so dear.

Losses of Pigs

A severe winter is usually followed by reports of heavy losses of young pigs. This year is no exception to the rule. Mr. W. F. Stevens, Provincial Live Stock Commissioner, has visited a number of farms from which reports of this kind have come. Although he does not claim to have discovered the precise cause in every instance, he does not hesitate to classify the causes, in the majority of cases, under the following headings.

Farrowed in February.

The losses among pigs farrowed in February are, as a rule, heavy. In seasons when the weather is as cold as it was during last February the losses are particularly heavy. This fact alone would account for many deaths.

Little Light and Less Ventilation in Pens. Animals confined with poorly lighted and ill ventilated housings cannot thrive, and young animals cannot develop strength nor resist disease in such places. Pneumonia doubtless caused most of the deaths among the early farrowed animals that were thus cared for.

Feeding heavily on Barley.

Barley was relatively cheaper than oats last winter, and many farmers yielded to the temptation to feed it to their brood sows. Barley develops fat but not bone and muscle. Bone and muscle, but not fat, are what the young animal requires in order to enable it to avoid danger and keep from being laid on and sufficed in the nest.

Feeding the Dam too heavily after Farrowing.

The swine grower who likes to feed liberally is usually a heavy loser from "thumps." Feeding too heavily on heating foods, particularly barley, wheat, rye, or spelt, and keeping her confined in a pen is likely to result in "thumps" among the young pigs. Turn the sow out, feed a thin slop of ground oats, and provide succulent feed roots or green forage of some kind.

Sows Had Frozen Teats.

Some swine growers went to the other extreme. They fed their sows out of doors during the coldest of the weather. In many cases these had to wade through snow drifts when going from the nesting place to the feeding ground. The result was that some of them from their teats and were therefore unable to suckle their young, which died of starvation.

Swine growers who have suffered losses of young pigs should write to the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, and ask for a copy of live stock pamphlet entitled "Preparing for the Pig Crop." also pamphlet entitled "The Suckling Period."

Automobile prices are being raised---but the Ford price has been reduced $120 since war began

The immense Ford cash purchasing power has made it possible to overcome in many ways the serious obstacles met with by other car makers because of the scarcity and advance in prices of raw materials.

The high Ford quality is strictly maintained—and the most exacting government tests have shown that Ford constructive material even exceeds that used in most high grade cars.

This year the Ford car—always the most economical car to buy and to operate—beats all records for economy.

Wheat and the War

One of the most comprehensive articles in The Agricultural War Book of 1916 deals with the subject of "Wheat and the War." It is written by Mr. T. K. Doherty, L.L.B., Commissioner of the International Agricultural Institute. The author traces the course of events, as regards the wheat market; in the momentous years of 1913, 1914 and 1915, the first named, sharing with the last two years some of their importance—although preceding the war—by reason of the decline of prices from those of 1912. In 1914 15 prices per bushel of British wheat jumped from $1.05 to $1.61. In this connection Mr. Doherty asks readers to examine a table giving quotations of prices since the year 1800. In 1812 the figures reached their zenith, Britain having wars with France and the United States on her hands. Wheat was then $3.86 a bushel, or more than three times the standing of to-day. During the first quarter of the nineteenth century the lowest price was $1.37, this was in 1822. In the second quarter, the lowest figure was reached in 1835, when wheat stood at $1.35. In the third quarter prices ranged from $1.17 in 1851 to $2.27 in 1855, fluctuating after that from $1.22 in 1864 to $1.95 in 1867 and down to $1.37 in 1875. In 1877 the price was $1.73. In 1878 the quotation was $1.40. A period of steadiness followed until 1883, when there was a drop to $1.25. The decline continued, the even dollar being reached in the following year. Then, for the first time in the period covered in the table, or in 1886, below that figure was reached 94 cents being the quotation. In 1891 the price was $1.13. In 1898 it was $1.03, the lowest point, namely 68 cents being touched in 1894. Fourteen years elapsed before a dollar was again exceeded. In 1909 the highest quotation stood at $1.13. Mr. Doherty briefly outlines the cause for these fluctuations, and proceeds to deal with the situation arising from the supply and demand in the last three years. He also deals with the output of other crops during these years, referring to the best known authorities in support of his details and deductions. He goes largely into the requirements and productions of the world in wheat, giving tables showing the yield in 32 countries of wheat and 22 of oats. In his conclusion, he also suggests that every aspect of the wheat situation appears to indicate the improbability of a return to the low average prices of 1910-11 and 12, and that following the declaration of peace there will be a greatly increased demand. His final words are "Economic interests unite, therefore, with patriotic duty in stimulating the agriculturists of Canada to extraordinary productive efforts during the forthcoming season." As an appendix, a description is given of marketing operations in Australia. The article deserves and should attract wide attention. The War Book can be had by addressing the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Prizes for Labor Saving Devices for the Farm House

In the endeavor to make farming profitable, there has always been a strong tendency to overlook the fact that economy in strength is a great factor to be considered—especially in women's strength. As a result of this tendency, the work of the farm woman has to a great degree been accomplished on "woman power," while inventive genius was spent on the production of farm machinery to be run with the least possible outlay of energy. This, however, cannot continue indefinitely. Women wear out almost as quickly as machinery, and they are awakening to the realization that they are of more value than the work upon which they expend their energy. Perhaps even more men realize this, and are ready to encourage the inventors of labor saving devices for the home.

As if in reply to this cry of the farm women "How can we save ourselves, and still accomplish the work which must be done," comes a competition at the Edmonton Exhibition, July 10th-15th, instigated by Mr. William Short, K.C., "for the best lay-out of labor-saving devices for a farm house, preference being given to machinery in place. Exhibit to show at least water pumping, washing, churning, milk separating, or like service. Economy of cost of maintenance, with ease of operation by a woman, to be essential features. Scheme to be practical in the opinion of the judges. Exhibitor may, if he chooses, show by plan, illustrating scheme, referring, however, to appliances on exhibit of standard make." The value of this competition is obvious, and the women of the town will be equally interested with the farm women in this display, which is primarily for the latter. The prizes are generous, the first donated by Mr. Short, and amounting to $25.00. The second and third prizes are $15.00 and $10.00 respectively.
